

Luke Edwards

Titles: 4 Sources: 0 Stills: 5

Born: US

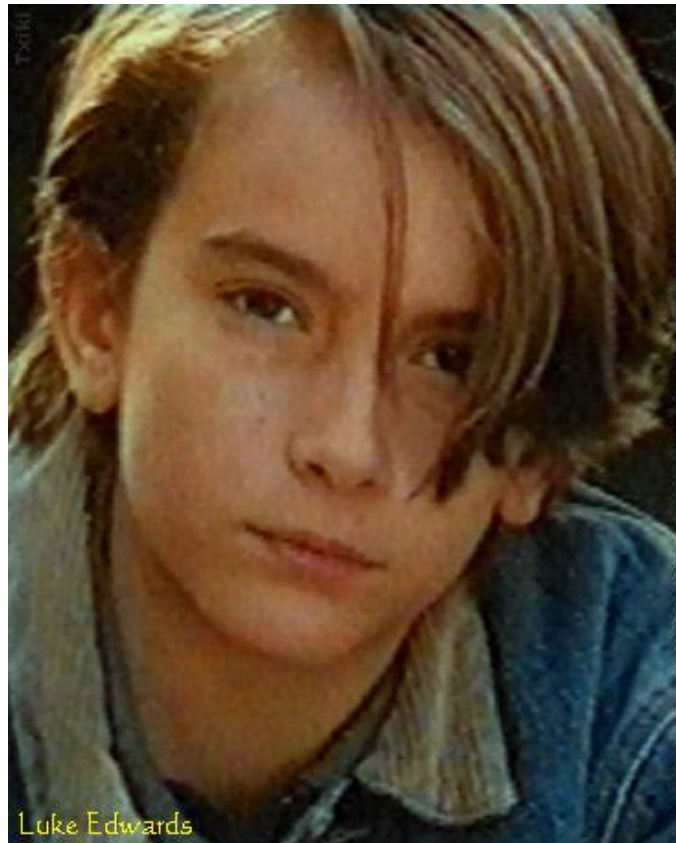

1994 was a good year to be a boy actor in Hollywood, and Luke wrassled two of the flurry of boyhood titles for himself. “LITTLE BIG LEAGUE” was a conventional family baseball comedy about a kid who inherits a major league team and decides to manage it personally, while “MOTHER’S BOYS” offered him a meatier role as the eldest son of psychotic Jamie Lee Curtis, who slowly begins to see his mother for the dangerous grasping manipulator she is. An earlier role as an autistic boy in “THE WIZARD” was wasted by crass scripting and flat direction. Nothing else is known of him.

As the autistic computer game whiz in “THE WIZARD” Source: indeterminate website

Right: the impassive, intelligent, apple of mother's eye in the
"FATAL INSTINCT" clone
"MOTHER'S BOYS"
Source: indeterminate website

Below: Swinging it with the big boys in "LITTLE BIG LEAGUE"
Source: Empire

In "THE WIZARD"

Source: indeterminate website

FILMOGRAPHY

Year	Age	Title	Role
89		THE WIZARD with Fred Savage
90		GUILTY BY SUSPICION	as Paulie Merrill
94		LITTLE BIG LEAGUE	in central role, Billy Heywood, 12
94		MOTHER'S BOYS with Colin Ward, Joey Zimmerman	as Kes Madigan