

Lolo Garcia

Titles: 4      Sources: 1      Stills: 21

Born: Spain; c1972

Spanish cinema regularly rucks up its own child stars, few of whom are ever known to a broader international audience. One such was Lolo, who rates only the briefest of passing mentions in "The Moving Picture Boy" despite having starred in a series of vehicles, perhaps most famously as Tobi, a six-year old winged boy, in an emetic fantasy of the same name. Nothing else is known of him.

High tech Lolo – in "COMPUTRON 22" (very likely not the original title)

Source: CVMC website

A long series of grubby frame grabs from "TOBI"

Source: indeterminate website

What the Critics said:

In "LA GUERRA DE PAPÁ":

"A Spanish family seen through the eyes of the young son. The classic Spanish comedy-with-kid which became a big box office success and transformed the child Lolo Garcia into a fleeting idol." – Speelfilm Encyclopedie

In "TOBI":

"All kinds of people fight over a winged child. Truly awful, with the exception of a few gags for film buffs." – Speelfilm Encyclopedie

In "2 y 2, 5":

"One day a shy child meets an old seaman. A hackneyed tearjerker."
– Speelfilm Encyclopedie

In "COMPUTRON 22":

"An eleven year old boy (Lolo Garcia) is told his mother is dead but soon finds evidence to the contrary. Determined to see her again, our young hero runs off and begins a search that takes him through several different countries and which is often full of danger. A decently done film which should interest fans of Garcia." – CVMC website

More stunning highlights from “COMPUTRON 22”. Rent it now. Somebody.

Source: CVMC website

FILMOGRAPHY

| Year | Age | Title                                               | Role                             |
|------|-----|-----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 77   |     | LA GUERRA DE PAPA("Papa's War") |                                  |
| 78   |     | TOBI                                | in title role, a winged child, 6 |
| 80   |     | 2 y 2, 5 (Dos y Dos, Cinco)         | in central role                  |
| 88   |     | COMPUTRON 22                        | in central role, 11              |

Source: CVMC website