Born: U.S.S.R. c1927

The Moving Picture Boy entry:

“Though most of his films are forgotten nowadays, the blond Tumalaryants was arguably the star Soviet child actor of his period. He had three outright leads in "POYEZD IDYOT V MOSKVU", "VOZVRASHCHENIYE" and "VOLSHEB-NOYE ZERNO", plus an important secondary role in "VISOKAYA NAGRADA" – no Russian boy since the silent era had been so honoured, and not even the extraordinary Kolya Burlyayev would be in the 1960s. In "VESOLIYE ARTISTI", however, Vova was merely one of several "child entertainers".
