Darker in mood and colder in setting than “THE DEVIL’S PLAYGROUND” or “LES AMITIÉS PARTICULIÈRES”, “ANTHRACITE” was set in a 1950s Catholic boys’ internate, where a more sensitive pupil, Pierre (Zucca) finds himself the object of a young idealistic master’s well-meaning attentions. But Father Godard’s solicitousness only makes him more the target of scorn, and his reaction is extreme and brutal. Nothing else is known of Zucca.

The bullied Pierre does not find his life in the lion's den made any easier by the nursemaiding attentions of his new master, Father Godard, in “ANTHRACITE”
