

K graphic

Glasblåsarens Barn

("The Glassblower's Children")

Sweden / Norway / Denmark : 1999 : dir. Anders Grönros : Birkeland / Zentropa /
Nordic Screen / Spice Prod / TV 1000 / Mutter Media / Eurimages : ? min

prod: : scr: Anders Grönros : dir.ph.: Philip Øgaard

Oliver Peldius

Thommy Berggren; Pernilla August; Stellan Skarsgård; Jasmine Heikura

Ref:	Pages	Sources	Stills	Words	Ω	8	≠	M	⚡	Copy on VHS	Last Viewed
5299b	0.5	3	1	256	-	-	-	-	-	No	Unseen

Source: Ver. Martijn website

Variety International Film Guide 2000
comment:

"Anders Grönros' fairytale "THE GLASSBLOWER'S CHILDREN" ("Glasblåsarens Barn") became the children's film of the year, beautifully made but a bit too artistic and artificial."

Vereniging Martijn Filmtips webpage note:
www.fpc.net/pages/martijn/filmtips

"Two children, Klas (played by Oliver Peldius) and Klara, are growing up in poor rural Sweden in the middle of the 19th century. Their father Albert is a glassblower, famous for his lovely vases, but he's still not able to support the children and his wife Sofia. On New Year's Eve a suave lord comes by and buys all of Albert's glasswork. Afterwards nothing is the same. Klas and Klara are kidnapped and brought to a strange castle..."

[no listing in "Leonard Maltin's Movie and Video Guide 2001"]

No further information currently available. Additional credits courtesy Variety International Film Guide 1998. It won Golden Bugs (Sweden's Oscars) for Best Camerawork and Best Supporting Actor (Berggren).

See subject index under FANTASY / FOLK TALES / FAIRY TALES, HISTORY, KIDNAPPING and SCANDINAVIA.