Comment from Films & Filming – Nov 66 – survey of Bulgarian cinema:

“A child is the centre of Zacco Heskia’s film, a child in danger, because of whom scenarist Yordan Radichkov has stopped the daily work of mankind...”

No further information currently available. Combining foggy still and snippet of plot this would appear to be another child-stuck-in-the-well drama, or something of the sort. The same article mentions in passing several other titles of interest – “BETWEEN THE TWO”, “KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOUR”, “RESTLESS HOME” – but supplies no more detail than on this one. Children trapped in sticky predicaments – a bank vault in “TIME LOCK” (57) for example – have supplied the impetus for one or two films, but not enough to merit a separate subject index heading.

See subject index under EASTERN EUROPE / SOVIET BLOC.
