Variety International Film Guide 2000 review:

"Mariantona, an innocent [sic] nine-year old girl who lives in a quiet little town called San Jorge, is suddenly forced to take part in adult life when the new town sheriff begins a reign of terror."

"...Directors and producers, obliged increasingly to look for alternative funding in the private sector, have been establishing co-production agreements with other Spanish-speaking countries... The thriller "CARNIVAL

MONDAY" ("Lunes de Carnaval") and the first children's movie produced in Venezuela since 1985, "OSCAR'S MAGIC ADVENTURE" ("La Mágica Aventura de Oscar") are Mexican-Colombian-Venezuelan co-productions."

No further information currently available. It's always so confusing to be told a child is "innocent" before we've even thought of accusing them of anything.
