US 1976 : Couple and young son (Lee Harcourt Montgomery, 14) rent a secluded country mansion for the summer, only to find the house exerting an unwholesome influence on them. Lacklustre and unsatisfying haunted house tale with a cast – Bette Davis, Burgess Meredith, Oliver Reed – well above its means.

Tom's Midnight Garden	UK TV serial c1990 : Jeremy Rampling as a boy of the 30s or 50s staying in an old house with his aunt and uncle. When the clock strikes thirteen, he discovers a doorway into the past, and a huge garden where he meets an unwanted child of the 1880s. She can see Tom, though others cannot, and takes him for a ghost by his strange clothing, and the fact he can walk through objects. Strictly there are no ghosts in the story, but it has all the traditional appertenances of the haunted house children's tale.
Tom's Midnight Garden	UK 1998 : Anthony Way and Florence Hoath star in a feature remake of the above.
Treasure in the Haunted House
